IASS Annual Symposium

3rd Italian Workshop on Shell and Spatial Structures

The program of IASS-IWSS 2026 includes keynote lectures and talks regarding theoretical studies, numerical methods, and experimental approaches for: tension, cable, and membrane structures, framed and lattice structures, gridshells, active-bending structures, large-span roofs and bridges, biomorphic structures, tensegrity structures, origami structures, pneumatic and inflatable structures, space architecture, active, multistable, and deployable structures, masonry and stone arches and vaults, concrete, steel, metal, timber, bio-based, and innovative materials.

14-18 SEPTEMBER 2026

* to be extended

Thematic Areas

Off-World Shell and Spatial Structures
AI-informed Structural Engineering and Design
Continuous Shells
Tension and Membrane Structures
Metal Spatial Structures
Timber and Bio-based Spatial Structures

Computational Methods
Structural Morphology
Historical Spatial Structures
Life-Cycle Design and Assessment of Shell and Spatial Structures
Teaching of Shell and Spatial Structures
Advanced Manufacturing and Materials
Architectural Geometry
